Devin wow im still rember his voice i rember everyday in 1st period him a luis would be in mr.thomas class just laughing away at everything! i rember onday devin took my walktalky and walked around pretending to be a police officer...he was just to funny he took my bracet that friday and told me he would bring it back on tuesday after our three day weekend and i never thought i would never see him again. My last words to devin were " you better bring me my bracet back" his responce " dont worry i will" .... i will always rember him walking down the hallways at school just being him laughing at everything and being happy. He will always be in my heart... Even though he wasnt my best friend he was still a friend and i know he is in heaven look down on everyone of us...He's not in pain he has no harm no one will hurt him now... Devin i miss you and you never left my mind for one moment since i left rampello.

i never though i would see him go out like this... I mean we all have to go simetime or another but my question is why did he have to go now ? ..... Ill never forget Deven he'll always be in my heart and mind... And even though you exist only im my memory now..its still like you never left this earth..my mom once told me the reason babies cry when they first come into the world is because their being born into a world filled with pain suffering and hatered...i wish i could see you just one more time because even my dreams of you doesnt do enough for me...i one of my dreams of you..you came up to me and said..every thing is gonna be alright..im just passing over..god needs me right now..so i had to go...i miss you Deven Miguel Pacheco..i dont care about what any one has to say about you..u didnt deserve to die like that..you was too young...theres so many things i wanted to do with you like hang out with each other become the bestest of friends...but i dont consider you a friend or my best friend i consider you as my brother..my lil puerto rican brother..im going to pray for you and your familia every night...and when its my turn for God to call the brearh out of my body all take me to heaven...i hope to see you there and me you and God can Dance Eat and play Xbox 360 until we drop... Then only in heaven will we be able to chill with each other..cause in heaven theres no more dying no more crying no more suffering...then u wont have to worrie about anything no more....R.I.P Devin Pochecho
