Dear Uncle Joe & Family You were quite the character and always with a smile and a hug! While visiting my grandparents across the street every year of my childhood I can remember, you and Aunt Connie were always a bright spot on our trip to FL. You will be missed. God Bless

I met you too late to know you so few years, but they are memorable. I hear your voice telling me your many stories about life with your family...life in Tampa. I was hoping you were going for a score of 100, but you left the game early. Well, I have your Jr. Hi woodworking project. I can visit you each time I touch it. Your hands cut, glued, screwed, sanded and finished every part. I suppose that if God ever needs another Ark, you can build it. Bye Dad. The pleasure was mine. Missing you, but never forgetting one so unforgettable. Ron

Joe, you were my best friend and we were there for each other. You always call to check up on us and your house when you went away. Joe and I spend a lot of time together fixing things and just talking. You service your country and friends proudly. We would come up with the most crazy ways to fix things but it always works.

Dear Family, My life living across the street from my Uncle Joe was a great experience. He taught me so many things. He was a tinkerer and as a young child along with my cousin Tony enjoyed many a happy day watching him in the garage. I will miss him dearly.
