I am so sorry to hear about your loss. I, too, had a pulmonary embolism as a complication with blood clots in August and by the grace of God was saved by my fiancé. I am touched by the outpour of Love for Shayna and feel for her family and friends during this time. You all are in my thoughts and prayers during this trying time. I also hope and pray that no one has to go through this.

I'm so sorry to hear about the loss of Shayna, losing someone we love especially a child in death never, never easy, 1 Cor 15:26 speaks of death being an enemy and it as proven to be so robbing us of our loved ones, but Jehovah assures us at Isaiah 25:8 that soon death will be swallowed up forever and no longer will we have to worry about that enemy again, but in the meantime to help soothe our aching hearts he has given us a hope that is like the bandage over a wound, the hope at John 5:28-29 and Acts 24:15 and Psalms 37:11,29 the hope of seeing our dead loved ones again on a paradise earth under peaceful conditions, just think the tears of joy instead of sadness we will shed in being reunited with our loved ones. Titus 1:2 tell us it's impossible for God to lie so it's a hope we can put faith in. I hope these Bible promise bring comfort to your heart.

My Dearest Neice, You'll never be gone, you've just shed your earthly body to don a beautiful spiritual body. I still see you in the beauty of each sunrise and the glory of each sunset. You've daily sent me "remembrances" of you in tiny things that happen. We never doubted that you'd one day "shine" in Heaven, we just wanted it to be much further in the future. We will always love you and we look toward the day when we will all be able to "Hug and Kiss" one another in person again. GOD BLESS.

My deepest heartfelt thoughts and prayers to Shayna's family and friends. Shayna was always fun to teach and playfully tease. I loved this class in 2000 and looked forward to seeing everyone of them each and everyday. Shayna's eyes had a feisty spark and I remember how much she and Chris Climo loved Harry Potter. She did much in her short time and definitely left a mark for the better. Rejoice to know she is truly at peace.

I first met Shayna in Alpha Phi Omega, when we were in the same pledge class and same family. I was so happy when she came back to APO a few semesters later and took an active role in our little family. She was always the first to respond or give an opinion, and I could always depend on her. I am sorry God took her before I really got the chance to know her better, but I know she is up there in heaven watching over us. She is already greatly missed, but I am honored to forever call her my Brother. My heart, thoughts and prayers are with you

Shay, I miss you so much already, but I know you will always be with me. Who am I going to call when the next episode of Grey's is on? Or when I get a rental car and need to take it for a spin ;) Or even for a late night Chinese run?? You were always there when I needed you, I don't think I expressed my gratitude enough. We had all of these plans after college, but God has a new plan for you now. I didn't think I had these many tears to cry, but they continue to fall. I love you so much, I can't believe you are not a phone call away anymore. Just a prayer. Keep watch over me, and someday I'll see you again. I'm not going to say goodbye, just 'see you later' because I will. I love you as a best friend, confidante, and sister. Thanks for being a part of my life, and I will always carry a part of you with me. I
