Sweet Emily, we were so close for so many years then you moved away and we lost contact. I couldn't find you. Today I am reading cards you sent me and looking at pictures of us during our antics and you in my wedding. I searched once more and to my devastation I find you here. I am heartbroken. I don't know what happened but I wish I could have been there to help you. You were beautiful inside and out. You will be missed and loved. I will see you on the other side. I am so very sorry. Love you bestie ❤️DeeEtta

Hello Emily, I think about you everyday. Miss having you here. We all stay busy working ourselves into the ground. We talk and look through our memories of you. I see you have lotsa love from your friendship's, schoolmates and loves. So sweet. I know you shine the brightest up there as you did here. Love.

Emily, my first and purest love. I found a box of letters that you wrote to me that have somehow survived for all these years, letters and photos. Out of curiosity, I Googled your name without any hope of finding you. I am devastated to find this page. I've never driven by the Brandon exit without yelling your name like Brando yelling "Stella." If I had known we had been only an hour apart all these years. . . . I've watched your tribute page. You remained beautiful your entire life. Unreasonably, I wish I could see you again. Maybe later, eh?

One of my favorite memories is the day you and Dwayne were married. We had such a good time. The wedding was so cool on the ship. We had such a good time we actually stayed an extra night over at the beach. We will miss you but we also know you are at such peace now. Not good-bye, but until we meet again. You will be in wonderful company from now 'til eternity. Love to you, Cheryl and Lance.

Emily and I shared alot of wonderful times. As the years went by they became less and less. I will miss you my dear friend and knew you were in good hands with your loving husband Dwayne and lost touch these last couple years and now I will regret that. I will keep all the wonderful times and your spirit you had in your younger days with me forever. Rest in peace my dear friend, I will miss you but not the memories you blessed my life with.
