My Abuela! You always loved and supported me thru everything I ever did in my life--even when I was up to no good....you welcomed me always with open arms. You called me your little Polynesian for all of my life and when I made eye contact with you--you always gave me a wink and smile. I love you so much. I know in my heart you are at peace and your soul complete as you sore thru eternity with Abuelo. I will see you someday I know.....Be Free my Abuela. I love you.

" Mom, It still feels like a dream that you have completed your journey here on earth and have gone to your eternal home and now no more suffering and pain. Your dream at last has been fulfilled and you are reunited with dad and other loved ones. Im so thankful that I was by your side when Jesus opened His arms and welcomed you in. Thank you for been the mom that you were and setting the examples of love, discipline, and compassion.I promise to keep in touch with Rick and look after him as well. I miss you and dad and will always cherish in my heart our memories. You both were such devoted parents. I love you mom .Love,Rhonda & Jim

Dearest Marie, thanks be to God that you are free from suffering and pain and surrounded by those you loved who went before you. I miss you terribly and always will. You were my other mother, sister, and best friend. I learned so many life skills from you and for those will be eternally grateful. So will those I cook your recipes for and who are warmed by the afghans you taught me to crochet. Thank you for sharing your family with me and including me in so many events. I will miss the mass cards you sent to me. They made me feel safer. But I like having our own guardian angel, too. Till I see you again, please know I loved and appreciated who you were to me, my children, grandchildren, and great-grandchildren. Love always, Jo

Mom, I have the piece of mind knowing that for the most part your last few months on this earth were happy. I miss 'bugging' you and hearing that 'Jackass' reply.....I will treasure those times forever. I thank Almighty God for sparing you any more pain and suffering and fulfilling your wish to be reunited with Dad.....I promise I'll play all the Andy Russell 'As Long As I Live' and Artie Shaw 'Begin The Beguine' 24/7.....We Love and Miss You Both, God Bless....., Rick
