“ Alice, our hearts are broken, and I'm at a loss for words. So many years ago, you and Tony were just this sweet couple that sat at the table next to ours, every week, during our weekly lunch outing. After seeing you week after week, we started exchanging light conversation, and discussing our love of Thai food. Those conversations grew into a friendship. And that friendship grew to the point where you and Tony claimed a piece of our hearts. The lunches we shared together since then were always treasured moments for us. You and Tony have always been so sweet and giving to us, and your friendship will be forever etched in our hearts. Our thoughts and prayers are with you, now, and always.
