

Shannon Chamberlain

June 1, 2019

One night I dreamed a dream.
As I was walking along the beach with my Lord.
Across the dark sky flashed scenes from my life.
For each scene, I noticed two sets of footprints in the sand,
One belonging to me and one to my Lord.

After the last scene of my life flashed before me,
I looked back at the footprints in the sand.
I noticed that at many times along the path of my life,
especially at the very lowest and saddest times,
there was only one set of footprints.

This really troubled me, so I asked the Lord about it.
"Lord, you said once I decided to follow you,
You'd walk with me all the way.
But I noticed that during the saddest and most troublesome times of my life,
there was only one set of footprints.
I don't understand why, when I needed You the most, You would leave me."

He whispered, "My precious child, I love you and will never leave you Never, ever, during your trials and testings.
When you saw only one set of footprints,
It was then that I carried you."

“ Dear mommy I'm not ok without you I cannot get you off my mind... I wake up, and you're my first thought, in the middle of the night, your all I dream of, I go to sleep fighting with this nightmare.... I love you so much... I'm just flooded with memories of your beautiful face... Everything reminds me of you ... I'm completely heartbroken .. Crushed... I never thought I would lose you... I am having trouble accepting this.. and all I wish was that I could just talk to you.. I hear my phone and for that first second, I think it's you.. and then I remember... Because you were the only one who use to text or call me besides Edgardo.. I hear your laugh.. and it makes me cry now.. I still see your smile, those beautiful Hazel blue/green eyes... Your incredibly beautiful hair that I always admired... I was enchanted by your beauty.. I already wrote that I looked like you... And now your gone .. and it took this happening for me to finally realize I do.. and for the first time in my life.. I'm able to appreciate my pen beauty... I guess I should say thank you.. sorrowfully though.. I have no way to talk to you and it makes me feel crazy sometimes.. I guess this is the only way I can say what I want to say so bad.. I have so many questions.. so many hugs I wish I could just pour out... Your death was right before my birthday... All my other birthdays all I wanted was presents... For the first time.. I woke up on my birthday and thought this was the first day you have birth to me.. this was the first day God breathed his breath into my lungs.. and here I am 26 years later.. and his breath is still going on and out.. and I'm so grateful... I just wanted to tell you that although this is such a sad situation that is hiring me so bad.. God can still turn ashes into beauty ... You are beautiful... Your life is beautiful... And I truly believe that God has finally set you free from all the things in this Earth that were hurting you, and you have finally been able to go home and have peace... I can imagine Jesus showing you around... Maybe even introducing you to Moses and Elijah these are the things I like to believe, it brings me peace.. and that you finally have your very own mansion.. the Bible says Jesus is building is all homes in heaven.. you never had one here but I can only imagine what he had waiting for you up there ... I hope and pray your happy mommy.. as much as I miss you and I wanted you here for myself.. I'm so glad that I got to experience you on the level that I did these last few months... I'm so glad the first time God gave that sending opportunity and brought you back so we could have those moments before this happened.. I know God was doing something so big in you, no matter what others may think... I know, I saw sometimes God had to take the fruit before it goes bad.. a lady told Edgardo that the day we found out.. I truly believe that was God Mommy.. you were the fruit.. and you were ready.. I miss you so much and it kills me to think of how incredibly long I have to wait to see you again I wish I could just bring you back for a little bit longer, but at least I can hope to see you again I love you and honor you so much and your wishes your finally with earnie too like you wanted, I did my best Mommy I need closure.. hopefully it comes soon... I know God will heal my heart, because he's already started and he will find the food work he started because it's His word that he promised I LOVEEEEE YOUUU TO THE DEPTHS OF MY SOUL!!!! NOOO ONE will EVER replace you... I don't think you every got the mothers day card I drew for you right before mother's day but God is so good that I felt in my heart to just take pictures of it for some reason that day and I'm so glad I did because I meant what I said that I WOULD NEVER choose anyone else to be my mommy. I will love you FOREVER!!! And I will carry you in my heart until we meet again... My beautiful Mommy Shannon Love your Daughter

“ This is her mom but I wanted to share the fun time she and I enjoyed singing and dancing to the oldies music back a few years ago. That day was the best and we just knew the neighbors could hear us but we didn't care.
I will always remember her and I that day.
I love you Shannon “More than words can say”
